Sir Thomas Is Confident.

LONDON, Aug. 21.-Sir Thomas Lipton, in an interview with a representative of the Daily Mail, expresses himself as delighted at the reception accorded the Shamrock by the Americans. "I am deeply sensible," he says, "of the very great kindness and courtesy extended to the master and crew of the challenger, and I take it as a very great and exceptional compliment that the freedom of the port of New York has been granted to me and my friends. Indeed, I venture to say that no greater mark of courtesy could be possibly shown.. I shall sail for New York by the Campania next Saturday, with Messrs. The fact is that they know nothing whatever about her. That is all I can say. Now let the better

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 21.-The first day of the race for the Canada cup resulted in no contest. Just as the starting gun was fired it could be seen that Skipper Jarvis, of the Defender Beaver, was in trouble with his mainsail, the throat halyard purchase having been carried away. While an attempt was being made to make repairs the port masthead spreader buckled like a thing of wire Jarvis promptly took in his mainsail and was taken in tow. Beaver was brought to the shops and the work of repairs was commenced at once. Genesee, the challenger, got under way early and started around the course, but she missed the western buoy, so the race was declared off. The yachts will race again to-morrow.

HENRY QUICK IS CHARGED WITH POISONING HIS BROTHER.

A Tragedy at Peru with Youthful Actors-Mysterious Death Bride-Many Deaths.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PERU, Ind., Aug. 21.-Henry Quick is jail to-night, charged with murdering his brother, William Quick. The charge was filed by Joel Sharp, an uncle, as a result of the incriminating testimony recorded at the inquest held by Coroner Yarling. Mrs. Quick, the widow, is equally affected by the testimony and there is every reason to believe her arrest will follow to-morrow. William Quick, who was twenty-one years old and had been married only a month, died ten days ago in awful agony. A physician was summoned only half an hour before death, but the man had suffered all night. Every indication pointed to poison as being the cause of death and Dr. Hurty, of Indianapolis, found great quantities of poison in the stomach. Coroner Yarling has since been holding an inquest and has gathered City, Ia.; C. S. Woods, Evansyme, J. R. Canterbury, Minneapolis; Chief Swigmuch damaging testimony. There is evidence that Mrs. Quick was in love with Henry and also that William, the husband, Ill.; James Foley, Milwaukee; Fred A. Woods, Cedar Rapids; D. C. Larkin, Dayknew the situation and tried to get Henry away from his house, where he had been living. Mrs. Quick is only seventeen years old and was Edith Flora, of Peru, before her marriage. Henry Quick is but nineteen years old.

Strike at Marion. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MARION, Ind., Aug. 21.-About a hundred shovelers employed by the Warren-Scharf Asphalt Paving Company, of New York city, on the improvement of Washington street, in this city, went on a strike this afternoon. They have been receiving $1.25 a day and their demands are for $1.50. All but seven men went out, but in a short time the company had about twenty-five men at work. A bill was passed by the last Legislature providing that laborers on all pubic work should receive 15 cents an hour. The men are working ten hours a day and they consider that the work is public work. Many lawyers contend that, as the Warren-Scharf Company has taken the contract, it longer considered by law as public work. As soon as the men went out they marched in double file to the Trades' Council hall, where they organized under the name of the Marion City Labor Organiza-tion and officers were elected. It was decided at the meeting that all should stand by the demand, but it was understood that no member of the organization should par-ticipate in any rioting or trouble. Superin-tendent Young stated that he did not wish to talk about the matter.

Crum was a prominent insurance man of this city and Evans was worth probably $60,000, being the president of the State national Bank at Jonesboro. Evans was sentenced for five years and is now serving his sentence. Haines was not the only victim of Crum, as an affidavit is now in the county clerk's office against Crum and Noah Wilhelm, a farmer residing near Upland, for obtaining $200 from Amos Overman, of Mill township. It is alleged that Crum and Wilhelm played the same racke on Overman that Crum and Evans did or Haines. Wilhelm is now under arrest and is out under $500 bond. ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 21.-Owing to denunciation of Harry M. Atkinson, formerly of Boston, Mass., and a nephew of Edward S. Atkinson, of that city, by W. S Thompson, councilman from the Fourth ward, at a meeting of the General Council this afternoon, the police reserve was called out to preserve order and quell what threatened at one time to be a riot. Several days ago a card was published here, supporting a petition for franchises which Mr. Atkinson was asking from the city and charging that several members of the Council were controlled by a rival corporation. At today's meeting the councilmen bitterly resented the charge and attacked Atkinson. HORACE GREELY'S BARN.

Church People Apply the Torch in Revenge on Dr. Clendenin.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.-The barn on the Horace Greely estate at Chappaqua, N. Y. was partly burned early this morning. The blaze is believed to have been the work of an incendiary. Rev. Dr. F. M. Clendenin who is rector of St. Peter's Church of Westchester, which was burned last week, has been living on the Greely estate this summer. When the church was burned Dr. Clendenin was at Chappaqua, and when the barn was burned this morning he was at Westchester. The burning of the barn will be regarded as strengthening the theory of incendiarism expressed by Dr. Clendenin regarding the burning of St. Peter's. Dr. Clendenin believes that St. Peter's was set on fire by some member of the "Broad Church" party, who had become bitter over the controversy that arose with Dr. Clendenin's protest against the ordination of Dr. Briggs in St. Peter's.

May Redeem Unused Stamps.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.-A question having arisen as to the power of the commissioner of internal revenue to redeem unused stamps under the war revenue act Commissioner Wilson requested an opinion of the Department of Justice as to whether the redemption provisions of the old stamp laws of the civil war would apply to th new law. The assistant attorney general in a decision published to-day, holds that the old law having been repealed in toto, none of its redemption provisions are in force. This claim first made its appearance fifteen years ago and was then, it is alleged, fathered by one L. C. Blaisdell. He had interested quite a number of people in it. The treasury rec-ords were thoroughly ransacked at the time and it was shown that Charles Durkey never owned a Union Pacific bond.

Wheat Crop of France.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.-Consul Atwell reports from Roubaix, France, that the con ditions for an abundant wheat crop were highly favorable early in the season, but a heavy fall of rain toward the end of June and early in July somewhat modified the prospect. He says several of the most productive districts will suffer a diminution of at least 10 per cent., but this would be off-set by increased production in other sections. Taking the government estimate of 371,778,000 bushels as a basis, he says the production may be counted at 354,750,000, or 368,940,000 bushels, if the weather is favorable for harvesting. To this estimate 34,-000,000 to 42,000,000 bushels are added as representing the reserve on hand.
